BIOLOGICAL ACTIVITY:

Ligustroflavone, extracted from Ligustrum lucidum, is a potential candidate as calcium-sensing receptor (CaSR) antagonist. Ligustroflavone exhibits protective effects against diabetic osteoporosis in mice[1]. IC50 & Target: CaSR[1].

References: